

WALK AGAIN

Restoring Life's Hope,
One Step at a Time

Chairman's Message

Dear Members of LPC,

We are turning 5 years old in 2025. Grateful that individual Lions and Clubs are initiating activities to raise funds for LPC. For example, Sale of Paintings, Karaoke Performance, Cycling, etc. We will be organising a nation-wide Walkathon towards the end of this year collaborating with LPC Ambassador Blade Runner Shariff Abdullah.

LPC was invited by the FiveStar International Light Volleyball Championship held in Singapore 15/16 April at Warren Golf Club which have disabled sportsmen and sportswomen competing. Through the Li Foundation, LPC is also made known to the Disabled Association of China. We hope to have more liaison with this huge organisation in the coming years.

Lastly, we pay tribute to PDG Nancy Lim who passed away on 10th April. She and LCS Chong Pang were the pioneers in the formation of Lions Protheses Centre.

PDG SK Ho
Chairman, Lions Protheses Centre (Singapore), 2024-2026

Lions Protheses Centre (LPC) – Singapore

The Lions Protheses Centre (LPC) – Singapore, officially registered as a society in May 2020, is supported by the Lions Clubs of Singapore and dedicated to enhancing mobility and quality of life for amputees, especially those who do not qualify for government assistance or lack access to other support systems.

By combining innovative technologies with compassionate care, LPC empowers individuals to regain independence, dignity, and confidence. Through a strong network of volunteers and partners, LPC is committed to expanding its impact and ensuring accessible, high-quality prosthetic solutions for all in need.

Milestones

Quan Che Returns: A Night of Laughter for a Meaningful Cause

"Quan Che Returns" Stand-up Comedy by Helen Tan from LCS Vanda was staged on 1st March 2025 at the Tanglin Club for 108 intimate guests.

It was a simple and elegant evening of laughter, good food, great wine, music, entertainment, and fellowship amongst friends—evident of a successful fundraising charity.

This event raised a total of $217,854 towards the funding of the artificial limbs program "Walk Again" by Lions Protheses Centre (LPC) – Singapore.

The ladies from the "Quan Che Returns" Committee are grateful for the opportunity given to support this meaningful cause.

Ai Reen's Journey: Courage

Before the infection, Ai Reen helped others feel beautiful. Afterward, she couldn't even brush her own hair. Her hands had fallen silent—but with the support of the Lions Prostheses Centre, she found the strength to begin again.

Lim Ai Reen (林艾玲), a 38-year-old beautician from West Malaysia, came to Singapore in 2016 for work and a better life. But in October 2023, everything changed. A sudden and severe bacterial infection led to the amputation of all four limbs.

The physical loss was devastating—but what followed was even harder. Her world, once filled with routine and independence, collapsed into stillness. The hardest part wasn't just the physical pain—it was the helplessness of relying entirely on others for even the smallest daily tasks.

"I lost my limbs, I lost my job, and my life was in total darkness," Ai Reen said. "All my savings were gone just to stay alive."

Her turning point came when VDG Chai Lai Soon, then Vice Chairman of LPC, reached out with a message of hope. With his support, LPC provided approximately S$30,000 in assistance, helping her receive prosthetic legs and basic arms. With the legs, she took her first steps back into life.

However, the arms—though essential—were heavy and rigid, making even simple tasks like holding a cup or using her phone extremely difficult. Still, Ai Reen refused to give up. When she reached out to LPC again, the response was swift. The Lions community came together to raise funds for custom-made bionic hand—designed to restore not just movement, but also her confidence and independence.

义手不违难提物打字 截肢女将换‘仿生手’

管雅凡 报道 yf@sg.com.sg
因细菌感染四肢保命的美容师在狮子义肢中心帮助下成功装上双手义肢，不过才用半年后就发现不合适，狮子会筹款定制新的“仿生手”。

本报去年曾报道，来自马来西亚怡保的林艾玲（38岁）2016年来新当美容师，却在2023年10月因细菌感染引发败血症，让她失去了四肢。
新闻刊登后，本报收到各方爱心人士的电话及短信，包括新加坡两地的读者，他们想尽一点心意，捐款给林艾玲。
狮子义肢中心随后也通过本报与林艾玲取得联系，并为她捐助手部义肢，以及补贴安装义肢的费用。

林艾玲近日告诉本报，尽管装上了手部义肢快半年，但感觉并不太适合自己。
“我一开始就觉得用得不方便，原以为习惯就好，但是过了好几个月，还是无法拿太大或太小的物品。”
她说，自己也无法使用义手在手机打字。
“我把这件事告诉狮子会，他们了解情况后就说会帮我换成另外一种更高科技的‘仿生手’。我很感谢他们一直这么帮助我。”
林艾玲透露，她在等待“新手”之时，也会与朋友外出散心。
“与去年相比，我的心情已经恢复了不少。不过还是希望可以在本地找到工作机会。”
她也说，自己的左手有疤痕，神经也没有那么活跃，因此准备先做右手的义肢。

一只仿生手6万元 国际狮子会筹款定制

国际狮子会308区第一副区总直谢来桐接受本报询问时说，林艾玲目前的义手是“基础款”，靠义肢后方的弹簧行动。
“新的仿生手会更灵活，手指可以动，应该可以更好帮助她完成每天的活动。”

他也透露，定制一只仿生手需要至少6万元，狮子会正在筹款。
“我们也会定期跟进，看她有什么需要。日前我们举办捞鱼生，也邀请她到场与我们庆祝。希望今年五六月就可以帮她戴上新的仿生手。”

Beyond Limitation

In February 2025, the LPC Board of Directors approved funding for her new bionic arm, marking a meaningful step forward in her recovery. It was more than just financial support—it was a show of belief in her future.

Ai Reen's story has since been featured across multiple media platforms in Singapore, touching the hearts of many and shining a light on the life-changing mission of LPC.

She also participated in the YES 933 "Riding Under the Stars" night cycling event together with the Lions Prosthesis Centre, where she was interviewed by DJ Siau Jiahui. Sharing her story publicly for the first time, Ai Reen inspired countless listeners with her grace, strength, and quiet resilience.

At recent Lions events, Ai Reen stood proudly alongside LPC board members before a public audience. Once unable to walk or even lift her own hand, she now stood tall—not only with the help of prosthetics, but with the unwavering strength of her spirit.

"Even though I've lost so much," she said gently, "I still hope to return to work one day. I want to live a full life—and I'm preparing myself for that new beginning."

At LPC, we believe prostheses are not just tools for walking—they are instruments of hope. And in Ai Reen's journey, we are reminded of just how powerful that hope can be.

LPC Builds Regional Impact at 2025 “Fivestar” Light Volleyball Championship

The 2025 “Fivestar” International Light Volleyball Club Championship was held from April 15–16 at Warren Golf Club, Singapore, bringing together regional teams and partners to promote inclusive sports and social good.

LPC was invited as a supporting partner, with our presence prominently featured throughout the event.
